Meany Says AFL-CIO To Cooperate In Probes

5th Amendment Witnesses Draw Labor Boss' Fire

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (P)—President George Meany today asserted the AFL-CIO will cooperate with congressional committees "turning up corruption in labor."

He also took a firm stand against labor leaders invoking the Fifth Amendment to protect themselves.

Meany, a husky, plain-talking man, upheld established AFL-CIO policy on both points at a news conference at the end of the first session of the organization's Executive Council.

Referring to testimony brought out in the current hearings in Washington, Meany stated: "Things that have been exposed are things that labor should not be proud of. I'm interested in eradicating these things."

Reports Noted

A reporter told Meany there has been "some feeling" among many members of the 29-man Council that the Senate Committee investigating labor and management practices had treated labor unfairly.

There also have been reports that some labor leaders want to shift to a policy of attacking the Senate Committee.

"I have not heard of it," Meany said, and he added: "There should not be any change in the policy of cooperating with any committee turning up corruption in labor."

Meany said the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, "did a good job as far as it went."

Hutcherson Case To Be Aired

"We'll cooperate legislatively or any other way," he said, but he added that his organization would "resist any attempt to fasten restrictive laws on labor as a whole because of the sins of a few."

Meany announced the Council, at some unspecified time during its four-day parley, will take up the case of Maurice Hutcherson, a member of the Council and the president of the 850,000-member Carpenters Union.

Hutcherson took the Fifth Amendment when he appeared before the Senate Public Works Committee. The committee was investigating reports that Hutcherson and others made quick profit from the sale of right-of-way land along a road system to the State of Indiana.

Hutcherson has said that no union funds were involved.

Sultan's Troops Mop Up Rebels

MANAMA, Bahrain, Aug. 12 (P)—The white flag of the rebel Imam of Oman was reported flying over only one last village of clay huts in central Oman today.

The red banner of the Sultan of Muscat and Oman was seen flying this afternoon at Bakhla Village, which has always been held by the rebels, British officers said.

But the neighboring village of Jabrin was still believed in the Imam's hands.

North and south columns of the Sultan's British-led troops connected up today inside Birket el Mauz (Pool of Bananas), which surrendered through a deputation of villagers.

A British spokesman in Bahrain said it could now be assumed that Izki also has fallen to the Sultan's forces, since the road between Muscat and Fahud is now open.

Imam Ghalib ben Ali, the rebel religious leader who was fighting to set up an independent state in the interior of Oman, apparently eluded the Sultan's troops at Izki. He escaped yesterday when his stronghold and capital, Nizwa, fell without resistance.

Yemen King Not Ill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (P)—The legation of Yemen today denied that King Imam Ahmed is critically ill. An embassy spokesman said the 64-year-old monarch is in perfect health.

U.S. Warns China Trips 'Subversive'

48 Americans Now In Russia Prepare To Defy Travel Ban

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (P)—The State Department today warned 48 Americans now in Russia that going through with their planned trip to Red China "would be subversive" of U.S. foreign policy.

The strong statement was made at a news conference by Lincoln White, department press chief.

White said the Americans, part of 150 who attended a Communist-sponsored World Youth Festival in Moscow, are well aware of the U.S. ban on travel to Red China. And, he declared, "all of them are old enough to know what they're doing."

White said "travel to Red China is not only contrary to passport regulations in force, but would be subversive of the well-known foreign policy on which these passport regulations are based."

Visits Not In U.S. Interest

This policy, he said, is simple: The United States refuses diplomatic recognition with China's Red Communist regime and holds travel to the China mainland to be "not in the American interest."

White refused to say what the State Department might do if the youths defy the ban. He repeated a decision on action will be made when and if they set foot on Red Chinese soil.

White said those students who visited the U.S. Embassy in Moscow got a clear picture of what is involved. He said efforts are being made to do likewise for the others.

It was when a reporter noted that some are "gray-haired youths" in their thirties that White said all are old enough to know what they are doing.

"Gimmick" Reported

His words went beyond warnings of possible actions given the Americans by U.S. Embassy officials in Moscow. More than a dozen called at the embassy for advice. All were told they might be guilty of passport misuse and violation of the "trading with the enemy" regulations, with consequent heavy fines and possible loss of passports.

White noted news reports that some of the youth delegates, rather than go so far as to hand over their passports to Red Chinese officials, were copying pertinent information from them on separate sheets of paper.

He called that a "gimmick," and said it still constituted use of the passport, "the thing specifically banned by regulations regarding Red China travel."

Americans Hear Molotov Suicide

LONDON, Aug. 12 (P)—An American student who was in Moscow for the World Youth Festival said tonight he was told of rumors there that ex-Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had committed suicide.

George Abrams of Newton, Mass., telephoned The Associated Press in London from Helsinki, Finland, and said he heard the story from several sources.

Abrams explained how he had mounted a box in a Red Square and lectured on the American way of life, and went on: "After one of my speeches I was taken aside by a man who talked to me for two hours. He said he was an intimate of Dmitri Shepilov (also a former Soviet foreign minister) and that he had heard Molotov had committed suicide. He said the rumors were prevalent all over Moscow and he thought they were true."

He said he would prefer some delay on the measure—perhaps until a special session in October or the next regular session starting in January—if that is needed to get an effective bill.

Doria Duels With Racket Probers

Anthony Doria, former union labor official, tells the Senate rackets investigating committee Johnny Dio, a convicted extortionist, actually wanted to forget his criminal record and become an honest labor leader but "society wouldn't let him." Doria was also accused of putting $9,620 of union money to his own use. The voluble former secretary-treasurer of the Allied Industrial Workers Union immediately and loudly denied it.

Martin, Rayburn Attempts To Reach Exchange Fire Climbers Called Off On Rights Issue

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (P)—Rep. Martin (R-Mass.) the House GOP leader, said today that if the Democrats don't get a "good" civil rights bill through Congress they will have to explain to the people in the election campaigns next year.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) criticizing GOP tactics, said civil rights supporters could easily win passage of a voting rights bill at this session if "they really want it."

Martin and Rayburn dealt with the issue in separate news conferences while the legislation itself remained pretty much on dead center.

Martin made plain he's against the bill in the form which Rayburn has said would be acceptable to him. Rayburn showed no signs of yielding either. Neither would predict just what would happen on the measure.

The bill has passed the House but the Senate made some drastic changes and added a jury trial provision which Martin declared would nullify the bill. Rayburn wants to accept the Senate version or perhaps the Senate version with a modified jury trial amendment applying only to voting rights violations.

Martin said the thing to do is send the measure to Senate-House conference and work out a good bill.

He declined to say whether President Eisenhower would veto a civil rights bill with a limited jury trial amendment, but he said "I cannot conceive of myself being for it."

He said he would prefer some delay on the measure—perhaps until a special session in October or the next regular session starting in January—if that is needed to get an effective bill.

Attempts To Reach Climbers Called Off

Trapped Alpine Trio Presumed Dead

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland, Aug. 12 (P)—Mountain guides abandoned attempts to go down the sheer, snow-covered north wall of Eiger Mountain today to rescue three trapped Alpinists. They assumed the three had perished.

"No lives will be risked in order to bring dead men down from the north wall," said Swiss guide Peter Frei, chief of 90 volunteers from seven nations who had come here for the huge rescue operation.

"To go down the wall in this much snow would be suicidal folly," another guide said.

The Alpinists — two Germans and an Italian — were in a group of four who started up the wall Aug. 3. They became trapped two or three days later, unable to go up or down.

Ike Bids To Get Aid Fund Hike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (P)—President Eisenhower held an unannounced conference with congressional leaders of both parties tonight in an effort to get foreign aid funds increased at this session of Congress.

The President met at the White House with Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Senate Republican Leader Knowland, the majority and minority leaders of both houses and six other lawmakers from the Senate and House.

The White House did not announce the meeting but Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, asked about it, said it took place from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. (EDT) and concerned the foreign aid bill.

Of the President's attitude, Hagerty said: "He wants to get as much as he can."

House and Senate conferees have agreed on a foreign aid authorization bill setting a ceiling more than half a billion dollars below the Eisenhower request for economic and military aid during the fiscal year which began July 1.

Michael Farmer, 14, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital in La Salle.

Senate Votes $1.4 Billion For Military Construction

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (P)—The Senate tonight passed a bill authorizing $1,445,285,000 in military construction projects throughout the world.

The authorizations passed by voice vote included $1,203,412,000 in new military projects, compared with $1,603,072,000 voted by the House. The difference will have to be worked out between the two chambers.

Before the bill passed, Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) said he fears the Nike defense system would be unable to cope with the sort of attack that could be expected on American cities in a major war.

Stennis, floor manager for the bill, is chairman of an Armed Services subcommittee which has taken months of closed-door testimony on U.S. military installations.

The question on the Nike system of anti-aircraft missiles, now

In a dramatic maneuver that will go down in mountain-climbing history one of the four was rescued yesterday. He was Claudio Corti, 29, of Lecco, Italy, who was brought almost 1,200 feet to the summit on the back of German guide Alfred Helepart. Helepart went down on a winch-operated cable. No one ever has climbed down the wall.

The 13,036-foot mountain has one of the sheerest rock faces in the Alps. Blizzards and thunderstorms brought a halt to the rescue operation yesterday.

The two Germans, Guenther Nothdurft, 27, and Goetz Meier, 26, were last seen on the ledge from which Corti was rescued. Dangling out in space on a rope about 300 feet below the ledge is Italian guide Stefano Longhi, 44, also of Lecco, Italy.

It is presumed the two Germans fell to their deaths. The drop to the valley floor below is 6,000 feet. Longhi, who apparently was injured in a rock fall several days ago, was seen today through telescopes but his body was hanging upside down, motionless and covered with snow.

Military Wife Who Slew Husband Freed

CHARLESTON, W.Va., Aug. 12 (P)—Another military wife won her freedom today in U.S. Dist. Court from a murder conviction by an Army courtmartial.

She is Mrs. Louise Elizabeth Crawford Smith, 23, Nashville, Tenn., serving a three-year sentence at the federal reformatory at Alderson for the fatal stabbing of her husband.

Judge Ben Moore granted the woman her petition on a writ of habeas corpus.

Voluble Pal Defends Dio As Good Guy

Prober Charges Ex-Union Official Diverted $9,620

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (P)—Anthony Doria, a true and constant pal of labor racketeer Johnny Dio, was accused to his face today of putting $9,620 of union money to his own use.

Doria immediately and loudly denied it.

The charge was flung by Carmine S. Bellino, staff investigator for the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

It came toward the end of a day which had been given over largely to testimony by Doria that Dio, a convicted extortionist, actually was a good and softhearted fellow who broke down and cried when his henchmen were caught stealing. The senators didn't appear impressed.

The money Doria was accused of taking belonged to a Meriden, Conn., local of the Allied Industrial Council, which used to be known as the AFL Auto Workers union. The local went out of operation and Bellino said Doria, as secretary-treasurer of the union, neglected to list the $9,620 as an asset.

Heaton Had Interest

Instead, the committee aide said, Doria put the money into International Procurement Enterprises, a private firm in the business of making aerial maps.

Doria said he and Earl Heaton, then AIW president, and a man named Richard Loomis had interests in this firm, but he denied that any union money was diverted to it.

He said the $9,620 left over by the Meriden local was spent on union organizing activities on the West Coast or to finish payments on a lease Meriden local had on a meeting hall.

When Bellino referred to Doria's handling of union funds as "very, very bad," Doria protested.

"The union was broke when I went in there as secretary-treasurer," he said. "They had $1,643 in a tin box. My bad methods, as you call them, increased those assets at one point to 1½ million dollars."

Union Now Broke

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, noted that the union now is so broke that it was unable to pay for a recent banquet.

"They were broke when I started, and went broke six months after I left," Doria retorted. "I think that speaks well of my methods."

Doria left the union, by request, last March. One reason was that AFL-CIO critics said his associations with Dio made him unfit.

Doria said Dio wanted truly to be an honest labor leader but that "cruel society" hounded him because of his criminal record.

"He was imbued with the spirit of the union movement," said Doria, a man with a considerable vocabulary and a loud voice.

"I can only quote his own words: 'Doria, you're making me into a real labor square.'"

Two Die In Coal Tipple Collapse

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 12 (P)—Two mine workers were crushed to death today under a five ton pile of coal but another rescued after a few minutes lived to tell of his nightmare.

George Jones, 54, of nearby Marmet, was the bewildered survivor of the accident at a coal tippie. A 12-member rescue party recovered the blackened bodies of Joe H. Mitchell, 15, and Ezra Pauley, 58.

Jones owns the Thompson Coal Co. and Lens Creek mine where the accident occurred. His wife, Mrs. Lola Jones, witnessed the mishap. She said the side of the tippie gave way while the three men began to load a truck.

A cascade of coal fell on the trio. Rescuers were able to pull Jones out after only five minutes but they dug two hours before reaching his companions.

Jones, who was treated at a hospital here and released, said "I thought I was having a nightmare. I knew I was dying, but it all seemed unreal."

Mrs. Purdom Sues

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12 (P)—Actress Tita Purdom, former wife of actor Edmund Purdom, filed a three million dollar damage suit today against Confidential and Whisper magazines, publisher Robert Harrison and others.

Airliner Wreckage Sinking Into Swamp

ISSOUDUN, Que., Aug. 12 (AP)—The shattered fuselage of a chartered airliner became a water-logged coffin for victims of Canada's worst air crash tonight as it sank slowly into the muck of a swamp.

Some of the 79 dead were entombed in the aluminum passenger compartment, but Dep. Transport Minister John Baldwin ordered that no expense be spared to get the bodies and the wreckage out.

The main portion of the four-engine DC4's fuselage was sinking into the 25-foot, water-filled hole that it plowed in the bog. Dr. Jean-Paul Pouliot, coroner of Lotbiniere County, said army pumping teams were being called in to free the wreck.

A three-man government investigating team joined those looking for bodies and slogged through the ankle-deep mud.

Pinball Owners Beat Government

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Evening Star said today Prince Georges County, Md., pinball machine owners have come up with a new gimmick to beat the government out of license fees.

It said the owners are avoiding the purchase of $250 federal gambling stamps in this way: Players feed nickels to bartenders instead of into the machines. The bartenders make illegal payoffs and operate the machines with buttons under the bar.

This takes the pinball devices out of the category of coin-operated machines for which stamps are required under gambling laws. County Police Inspector Vincent S. Free warned that payoffs for games won on the pushbutton machines still will be considered gambling violations.

Moravian Church Conference Opens

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Aug. 12 (AP)—The Moravian Church, one of the world's oldest Protestant churches in the world and claiming to represent totally 300,000 congregants, holds its general synod in the U.S. for the first time starting tomorrow.

Forty-four official representatives of the church convene for a 28-day conference, the first gathering of the Moravians' legislative group since 1931, when it met in Herrnhut, Germany, considered worldwide headquarters of the church.

Delegates from Germany, Holland, Denmark, Switzerland, England and Czechoslovakia, as well as the two American provinces of the Moravian church will debate international church policy. Also attending will be representatives from church mission fields in the British West Indies, Africa, Nicaragua and Alaska.

No one survived the crash, which occurred in a thunderstorm yesterday afternoon. The Maritime Central Airways plane was heading from London to Toronto with ex-British servicemen and their families who had been visiting the folks back home.

The plane went down 15 miles south of Quebec City on farmer Alfred Martel's land. He saw and heard nothing, but his son, Jean-Guy, 12, and his employee, Ferdinand Olivier, 31, were working in a nearby field on a tractor.

They reported watching the stricken aircraft plunge straight down. Then they cut a path to the spot about half a mile away and found parts of bodies scattered over about two acres of the level, treeless muskeg.

"The big crater where the plane hit already was filled with water," said the boy.

A neighboring farmhand, Guy Michaud, 21, said he saw the plane flying low with all four propellers stalled. "The next thing I knew there was a big explosion," he said.

Clothing, personal papers and charred hunks of the plane were scattered over the swamp, which was closed off from both photographers and souvenir hunters by police.

Trucker Freed In Murder Case

FERNDALE, Md., Aug. 12 (AP)—A truck driver was released late today after being killed several hours after the Margaret Virginia Harold murder case.

Anne Arundel County Police Chief Wilbur C. Wade ordered the 34-year-old Hyattsville man released after key witnesses failed to identify him. M. Sgt. Roy D. Hudson, the soldier who was with Mrs. Harold when she was shot on a lonely road June 26, could not identify the man as the killer. Nor did three other persons who reported seeing a strange man in the area of the killing 12 miles west of Annapolis.

The truck driver subject to the day-long questioning had been picked up as he reported for work. He was taken to police headquarters here and put in a lineup.

Wade said the man's alibi, that he was on his job at the time of the slaying and not in the vicinity, checked out with his employer.

In addition to Hudson, truck driver Marvin Hardesty viewed the man questioned today but failed to identify him as the man Hardesty helped out June 26. Hardesty told police he had pulled a green sedan automobile from a ditch near the killing scene. Police are convinced such a car was used by the killer.

A post road is so called from the fact that in the early days the United States mail was carried over it.

Employment Reaches High Of 67,200,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The hiring of young people in summer jobs and a slight increase in farm workers boosted the nation's employment for July to a high of 67,200,000, the government announced today.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell said in a joint report that a 700,000-worker increase over June was one of the biggest jumps upward on record for this time of the year.

There were some moderate jobs reductions among adult workers in educational services and manufacturing, which is normal for July.

Unemployment for the month dropped 300,000 to three million because of the hiring of a record number of students and graduates who had been listed as job seekers during the previous months.

Employment in nonagricultural fields rose one-half million to 59,400,000, largely from the hiring of students for the summer.

Plant vacation shutdowns reportedly accounted for a drop of 300,000 in nonfarm employees to 52,560,000. Factory jobs dropped 180,000 to 16,700,000, somewhat more than the usual seasonal slump. The biggest cut was in the automobile industry.

The factory work week in July was 39.9 hours, one-tenth of an hour below the June level and two tenths below a year ago.

Conscience-Stricken Robber Sentenced

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—A man whose troubled conscience prodded him into confessing an 11-year-old robbery was sentenced today to seven years in the penitentiary.

Judge Michael J. Manley pronounced sentence on Gilbert L. Elliott, 31 (of 1600 block Hanover street). The judge could have sentenced him up to 20 years. On July 27 Elliott walked into southern district police headquarters and revealed he and his brother staged a $128 robbery in 1946. He said he kept still about it all these years because he didn't want to implicate his brother.

Gilbert's brother, Eugene, died within the past few years.

Police records showed that a night watchman at the Potomac Building Corp. was tied and the company safe robbed on June 29, 1946. The watchman, Julius Galoon, died several years ago, it was testified.

Navy Claims Record

ALAMEDA, Calif., Aug. 12 (AP)—A twin jet A3D Skywarrior flew from Hawaii to California today in 4 hours 12 minutes, a record for the eastward flight, the Navy announced.

Burned Six Years Ago, Boy Braves Fire To Save Man

GREENVILLE, Pa., Aug. 12 (AP)—An 8-year-old boy, scalded six years ago broke from his mother's grasp last night and ran with two men to aid a 46-year-old apartment tenant enveloped in flames. All four were burned.

Most seriously burned was John Nehlen. He saw a fire in his utility room and grabbed a flaming five-gallon gasoline can to throw it out the door. The gas spilled over him, flames igniting his clothing.

Seeing Nehlen aflame outside the door of his apartment, young Philip Owen ran from his mother to help. Two men, Richard Mowry and George Rogers, joined the youngster and helped beat out the flames.

The boy suffered burns about both legs and was admitted to Greenville Hospital along with Nehlen. Young Owen was not seriously burned.

Six years ago a pan of scalding water fell on him, burning him from his neck to his knees. He's been undergoing skin grafts ever since.

Freak Mishap Fatal To Youth

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 12 (AP)—A 13-year-old Severna Park boy was killed in full view of his mother today when he was struck by a car and thrown against an approaching truck which dragged his body more than 40 feet.

Anne Arundel County Police said Frederick Henkel Jr. died instantly from fractures of the skull, chest, neck and both arms.

Police gave this account of the unusual accident:

Henkel, in bathing trunks, was returning home after swimming. He was riding in a car driven by James G. Doyle of Annapolis.

During a local cloudburst, Doyle pulled his southbound car over to the left side of the road to let the Henkel boy out in front of his home on Old Annapolis Rd., just south of Severna Park.

The youth had just climbed out on the right side when the Doyle car was struck head-on by another auto which police said was being driven at a fast rate of speed by Harry Richard Piet, 20, of Baltimore.

The impact drove the Doyle car into the Henkel boy and threw him against a southbound truck driven by Hunter Reid, 20, also of Severna Park.

Police said a technical charge of manslaughter will be placed against all three drivers involved in the accident.

Grant To Poles

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Warsaw radio said tonight the Rockefeller Foundation has made a $475,000 grant for development of science in Poland.

Gable's Name Is Mentioned At Libel Trial

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12 (AP)—A former Confidential magazine editor testified today that actress Francesca de Scaffa told him she supplied data for a story on the first Mrs. Clark Gable by having an affair with Gable.

The actor, contacted on Maui in the Hawaiian Islands where he is vacationing, said he couldn't recall ever having met Miss De Scaffa.

Gable thus became the first top Hollywood name to reply to testimony at the libel-conspiracy trial. He may be the first of many, unless a prosecution move to stop the defense from calling scores of performers as witnesses succeeds. The prosecution filed briefs toward this goal today.

Gable's name entered the case as Defense Atty. Arthur Crowley pounded at state's witness Howard Rushmore, former editor of Confidential.

Rushmore was questioned about his earlier testimony that Miss De Scaffa had smilingly told him she would "have an affair" with men if necessary to provide material for Confidential.

Sugar Heir Sued By Viennese Model

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Aug. 12 (AP)—A 35-year-old Viennese model today sued Claus Spreckels Jr., for $750,000 damages, claiming he professed intent to get a divorce and marry her. She said he later promised to pay her $5,000 but has only paid $1,600.

Spreckels is the grandson of the late John D. Spreckels, sugar magnate.

An attorney for Ernestine Christine Bruckner filed the suit with the San Mateo County clerk.

Army Will Draft 7,000 In October

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Army today issued a draft call for 7,000 men in October, 1,000 less than the previously announced quota for September.

The reduced call followed an economy order from Secretary of Defense Wilson that the Army trim its total strength by 50,000 by the end of this calendar year.

14-State Alarm Issued For State Pen Escapee

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 (AP)—A 14-state alarm has been issued for Charles A. Wilson, 24-year-old bank robber who escaped from the Maryland Penitentiary last Saturday by slipping between the bars of a window.

Two reports by persons who believed they saw the slightly-built fugitive were checked out by police over the weekend without success.

One other lead remained. Five 16-year-old boys told police they gave a ride to a man resembling Wilson in the Milford Mill section of Baltimore County about 3 p.m. Saturday.

The youths said they gave the hitchhiker a ride to Pikesville and said the man told them he was going to Hagerstown.

The hitchhiker was described by the boys as 5-foot-4, weighing about 125, and with numerous tattoos on both arms, he is said to have the letters "H-a-r-d-l-u-c-k" across his fingers.

Wilson had served about three years of a 20-year term for his part in the 1954 robbery of a Canton branch of the Provident Savings Bank.

Prison officials believe he obtained a "bar-spreading device" fashioned in the institution's machine shop. Using the device, he bent two bars slightly and wriggled through an opening 6 1/4 inches wide.

A piece of wire screen was snipped and Wilson dropped 20 feet to the ground then climbed a seven-foot fence to safety.

100 Influenza Cases On N.Y.-Bound Ship

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—A ship nearing New York with 800 foreign exchange students reported today that about 100 of them were suffering from mild cases of influenza.

It was not known whether the student epidemic was connected with outbreaks of "Asiatic flu" which have occurred in various parts of the world.

Meanwhile, the Health Department reported that tests on four foreign students who arrived here by plane Wednesday showed a virus similar to influenza.

The ship Arosa Sky, due tomorrow from Rotterdam, is bringing 800 students ranging from 16 to 18 years old and from 18 countries. They are en route to live in private homes in 44 states and to attend local high schools.

County Fund Industry Leaders Named

Three men who have worked their way to top positions in their respective companies have been made co-chairmen of the Industrial Division of the County United Fund by Lewis J. Ort, C. U. F. campaign chairman.

They are Joseph M. Miller, superintendent of the Elkins division of the Western Maryland Railway; T. J. Klauenberg, superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; and Robert M. Hainsfurther, manager of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Works 7.

"Directing the industrial division is no longer a one-man job," Ort said in appointing the three men. He pointed out that the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company now conduct one-fund drives along with the other five major industries, Celanese Corporation of America, Western Maryland Railroad, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Miller is well known here for his long service in charitable causes. He headed the industrial division alone last year and has figured prominently in the payroll deduction plan for contributions to various drives at the Western Maryland.

Klauenberg, taking over his present duties in August, 1955, went to work in the B&O general offices in Baltimore when he was 16 years old, after being educated in Baltimore County public schools. He has worked on the Monongah, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Wheeling and Toledo divisions, and his duties have ranged from general office work up through the ranks to superintendent.

He has seen much service in charity drives, particularly those of the Red Cross and Community Funds. He was general chairman of the 1957 Allegheny County Red Cross drive, and serves on the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army.

He is a member of St. John's Lutheran Church here; Warren Lodge No. 51, AF and AM; Concordia Chapter, Maryland Commandery, and Bounti Temple AANOMS, all of Baltimore; Wheeling Lodge No. 28, B.P.O.E.; West Virginia Chamber of Commerce; Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, and the Tri-State Traffic Club.

Hainsfurther, although comparatively new to the Cumberland scene, brings to the community a wealth of know-how in civic affairs.

A native of Winchester, Ill., he received his bachelor of science in ceramic engineering at the University of Illinois after graduation from Senn High School, Chicago. He joined the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. as a supervisory trainee in 1930 at Creighton, Pa., Works No. 1, and served as foreman, assistant superintendent, superintendent and assistant manager before coming here as manager.

While living in Pennsylvania he was president of the following organizations: Tarentum Lions Club, Pittsburgh Section, American Ceramic Society; Industrial Management Club of Allegheny Valley; Harrison Township Health Council; Natrona Heights-Riverview PTA; and Har-Brack Joint School System, Board of Education.

Active in Community Fund drives for a number of years, he has also headed divisions in Cancer Society and YMCA campaigns.

He is a member of Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, Cumberland Country Club and the Rotary Club.

Local Fair Plans Midway, Exhibits, Shows

Just as Mecca, the Moslem religious center, became known for its Eastern fairs in earliest times, Cumberland becomes a Mecca for city and country people when the Great Cumberland Fair shows here from August 19 to 24 at America's most beautiful fair grounds.

A crow, nesting in West Virginia, can easily fly across Maryland at this point and have lunch in a Pennsylvania corn field. And at the Cumberland Fair, the Pennsylvania Dutch whose ancestors attended the great European fair established at Leipzig, Germany, in 1507, rub shoulders with West Virginians, descendants of British Islanders who instituted the famous Stourbridge Fair in England in 1211.

Hosts at the Cumberland Fair are the English and Germans stemming from Western Maryland's first settlers, and the Irish, Slavs, and Magyars who came later in the development of the region.

Originally, fairs were meeting places of buyers and sellers. Later, by the 18th century, when transportation methods had improved, they became "pleasure" fairs. Still later, town, country, and state fairs led to World Fairs—expositions of international industrial progress.

Combines Best Elements

The Great Cumberland Fair combines the best elements of all three kinds of fairs. For pleasure there is the traditional midway, with the peep-peep-poop of the callopie at the merry-go-round, the buttery smell of popcorn, the Ferris wheel spiraling against the velvety nights like a gigantic necklace revolving on a plush cushion in a jeweler's window.

There are nightly shows in front of the grandstand where automobiles are wrecked in the thrill show; Marvin Rainwater, "Mr. Bluebird," joins with the Ozark Jamboree and Midwestern Hayride stars; trained chimpanzees from the other side of the world vie with acrobats performing on teetering poles high above the grandstand; and on the last night of the fair, addicts of the "Rock 'n' Roll" craze can cut up their own capers on the big stage after watching their favorite stars in a professional performance.

Display Crafts

Farmers and homemakers and 4H kids display their crafts and skills and animals, making the kind of contacts that bring revenue during the ensuing year. The big industries display the products that bring payrolls to the Tri-State area, which in turn provide the funds for the purchase of farm and small-business merchandise.

It is a cooperative venture in the best American tradition, patterned after the one originated by Elkanah Watson, an Albany merchant, who organized the first rural fair in America, the Berkshire County Fair, at Pittsfield, Mass., in 1811. It was Watson who first provided the kind of cash premiums that are offered here for agricultural products and products made in the home such as preserves, clothing and furniture.

While some fairs, such as the Iowa State Fair and the fair of Danbury, Conn., have become nationally famous, the Great Cumberland Fair is nationally significant. Because of its unique position as an industrial-agricultural center in a three-state market, located only 125 miles from the national nerve-center at Washington, Cumberland is a barometer by which the condition of the national economy can be predicted.

Freno Claim Settlement Is Neared

The Mayor and Council is on the threshold of settling a claim which has been hanging fire since the completion of the Frederick Street improvement project.

It involves the property of Stephen Freno, corner of Warren and Frederick Streets.

An order was introduced yesterday to settle the claim but the Finance Department, Commission John J. Long and City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson, questioned the city's legal liability in the matter and whether liens against the property as a result of the improvement project should be included in the settlement order or made separately so it could be charged to the project bond issue.

Council ordered the settlement motion withdrawn and agreed to submit another order.

Under the proposal made yesterday the city would pay $500 to Freno; complete the sidewalk along the Frederick Street side; grade rear of the lot and waive any liens filed as a result of the recent street construction for which Freno and his heirs would release the city from any future damage claims.

The new order at the insistence of Gibson and Long is to be drawn and, it is understood, will not include the clause waiving liens against the property. This will be done by separate order.

In addition to the fact that the Freno property juts out over the property line followed by other residences in the section and that a sewer line had to be installed closer to the property, other damages to walls, sidewalks, and the like have been taken into consideration.

City Council Approves New Appointments

A number of appointments were approved yesterday by the Mayor and Council.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz in an amended order, changed designations of several sewage treatment plant workers to provide a 40-hour week basis and named two additional men. There will be 13 employees at the plant and only one, a laboratory technician, is yet to be named, he said.

The new appointments at the sewage plant are George H. Minnick, operator No. 4, at $3,600 a year; and Louis A. Ratenni, laborer, at $3,200 a year.

The changes involving men named last week are as follows: Richard N. Johnston, operator No. 5, $3,800; Robert A. Wilson, operator No. 1, $3,600; James E. Niland, operator No. 2, $3,600 and Roy L. Merritt, operator No. 3, $3,600.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long said he was voting "yes" on the order as a result of a get-together with Robert T. Regester, consulting engineer, last Thursday at which movies of the sewage treatment plant operation were shown.

Long said Regester answered questions which he (Long) had been asking for some time and told him the delay in the plant construction was due to relocation of a pumping station in the industrial boulevard section and the laying of steel pilings. He said Regester assured him the city is getting "an A. No. 1 sewage treatment plant".

Four probationary policemen were named yesterday. They are Richard L. Maier, Kenneth L. Henry, Donald L. Davis and William L. Shinholt.

State Fair Plans For Farm Queen

From the recent announcement by the officials of the Maryland State Fair, it is obvious they plan to add dignity to the State Farm Queen contest.

The Queen will receive a cash award of $200 plus a sterling silver bowl of Maryland production, in addition to reigning over the state fair from August 26 through September 7.

The first runner-up will receive $100; second, $50; third, $35; and each of the other contestants will receive $25. In addition, each girl will receive a sterling silver bracelet with bangle engraved, to indicate that she was queen of her respective county.

The queen and her court will have pastel sketches made of them in the large Exhibition Hall, and will have their hair styled by a leading cosmetician.

The selection of the State Queen will take place in front of the grandstand at Timonium on August 26 at 8 p. m. Preceding the contest, the contestants will be dinner guests of the State Fair Board. Formal crowning of the queen will take place on September 1, at 2 p. m., as a part of the 4-H parade.

Eighteen of the counties have already named the girl to represent them in this contest. Nancy Vandevort, Danville, will represent Allegany County. They are selected for poise, personality, manners and general appearance, as well as their Home Economics training, 4-H and like activities. Actually, they are "all-around" farm girls 16 to 18 years of age.

Jacque Wells, disc jockey of WCBM, will act as master of ceremonies for the contest. The judges will be Ann Morrow, WMAR; Conway Robinson, WBAL, and Charles Lamb of the Baltimore News-Post.

WHY ALL THE
PRESCRIPTIONS?

Why all the mystery in prescriptions? Are doctors and pharmacists trying to hide something from you? Actually, there is nothing mysterious or magic about a prescription, except that it is a passport to a world of modern drugs that cure in ways that often seem close to magic. A prescription is like a personal check signed by your doctor and ordering the pharmacist to "pay to the order of" a specific patient, a specific medicine good for what ails him or her at that particular time. Doctors use some technical terms to transmit exact information to the pharmacist just as musicians, or carpenters, or electronic technicians or persons in any other skilled job have their own technical terms, mysterious to outsiders, perhaps, but plain enough to the trained person who knows his job. That is why the selection of a pharmacist to fill your prescription is such an important decision, and that is why you can depend on Walsh McCagh to accurately interpret your physician's instruction for the pharmacists at Walsh-McCagh are well trained men who know their job inside and out and whose years of experience are dedicated to serving you.

Sen. Revercomb Addresses Big W. Va. GOP Rally

KEYSER — US Senator Chapman Revercomb of West Virginia was guest speaker at a rally of Second Congressional District Republicans and Republican Clubs, Saturday at Black Water Falls State Park.

He told his large audience to watch the work of Congress closely and especially to view the accomplishments of the Republicans in Congress, despite the fact that they are in a minority. He said many programs are to be fostered, and much legislation is being passed to meet changing forces throughout the world.

The speaker was introduced to the big gathering by Judge Charles E. Baker, formerly of the 17th Judicial District. Mrs. Rhoda King, Petersburg, opened the program and called on each 2nd district county club president for reports, all of whom reported an increase in membership in the past few months and emphasized the fact that the Preston County Club reported an increase of 181 members.

Police Chase Three Youths Over 150 Miles

Pursuit Spread Thru 3 Counties

KINGWOOD, W. Va. (P)—Police Chief Charles Tenney of the small Preston County community of Tunnelton near here reported today that he and a fellow officer chased a car carrying three youths for 153 miles before finally catching it.

The Sunday afternoon pursuit lasted for more than two hours, covered a three-county area, reached speeds up to 100 miles an hour and finally came to a halt near Fairmont when the chased car smashed into a utility pole. None of the youths was seriously hurt.

Tenney said the driver, Charles Knotts, 20, of Newburg, was held in Preston County jail here on charges of reckless driving and driving without a license. The owner of the car, Paul Lee, 20, of Independence, was held in Marion County jail as an accessory, Tenney said. The third youth, a teen-ager, was released in custody of his parents.

Tenney said he and patrolman James Messinger stopped the car to arrest the driver for a minor traffic violation. Knotts suddenly gunned the car and the policemen started after him.

Keyser Elks Launch Fund Drive For New Tank Truck

Hope To Assist In Providing Fire Protection For Rural Residents

KEYSER — Following action of the Keyser Volunteer Fire Department in its decision to discontinue fire protection service to rural communities in Mineral County, a number of citizens have sought a way to help provide this badly needed fire protection to rural areas.

Firemen had explained that without a tank truck or other adequate equipment, which the County Court said it has no funds to purchase, the fire protection would be limited to Keyser and the immediate vicinity.

Keyser Lodge BPO Elks, however, has launched a campaign to raise funds for the purchase of a tank truck, and in the meantime, Keyser firemen have agreed to take care of any emergency calls which may arise.

The purpose of the fund campaign is to raise upwards of $5,000 for the immediate purchase of a tank truck to serve rural areas in event of fire calls.

In a circularized letter sent throughout the county, the Elks committee headed by H. J. Borgen, chairman of the Tank Truck Fund, P. O. Box 189, Keyser, donations may be forwarded to the address and it is hoped the contributions may be large enough to enable the much needed tank truck to be purchased as a part of the prevention program.

In behalf of Elks Lodge 1916, the letters state:

"The Keyser Fire Department needs your help in purchasing a tank truck for the sole purpose of protecting you, your family and your property from fires which, without the help of your fire department, could cause considerable damage and even loss of life."

The letter refers to the inability of the Mineral County Court to purchase such needed fire equipment at this time, and says "the fire department cannot service you without this equipment."

The Elks Social and Welfare committee has volunteered its services toward raising the necessary funds for a tank truck, but the club members are helpless without financial assistance from the general public.

The Keyser Fire Department has agreed to continue answering all out of towns calls which may come in during this drive, the letter states.

The drive is for donations from rural residents as well as Keyser citizens.

Donations may be sent to Tank Truck Fund, P. O. Box 189, Keyser, W. Va.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 12 (INS)—ette Funicello, Darlene Gillespie Leave it to Walt Disney to pull a switcheroo and put all his TV "Mouseketeers". Kevin Corcoran, Tommy Kirk and Tim Considine feature length motion picture series of the "Spin and Marty" musical, "Rainbow Road to Oz". Of course, it's based on the tales of Frank Baum, whose immortal "Oz" stories have delighted children of several generations.

"So far we have cast in our 'Oz' picture Jimmie Dodd (of shows), said Walt, "and I think the 'Mickey Mouse Club', Ann— it's time to move some of the TV favorites into motion pictures."

Betty Furness gets Sidney Lumet, Gloria Vanderbilt's husband and a fine director, for her stage play "Minotaur." If the play is good after its opening in Westport, Conn., and turns out as they expect, it will be taken to Broadway. With Betty is a very cast consisting of Estelle Winwood, Janice Rule and Jean Lyon.

All of us marvel at Betty's rise to fame. I have known her for many a year and like all her friends am happy over her success. She's certainly one gal who has parlayed "commercials" right to the stage, and has made herself one of the best known gals in the country.

"Sayonara" has captured the beauty of Japan in the unbelievably lovely scenes filmed in color right in the land of cherry blossoms. There is a "Madame Butterfly" quality about James E. Michener's story of a love affair between an American major and a Japanese dancing girl.

I marveled at Marlon Brando's southern accent which he never lost once all through the picture. In the beginning the Japanese girl, Miiko Taka, looks very plain, but as she falls in love with the major her beauty unfolds like a flower.

Patricia Owens is very lovely as Eileen Webster, the American girl the major was engaged to before he went to Tokyo. Ricardo Montalban in a bit part as Nakamura, acts and looks Japanese. Red Buttons, known the length and breadth of the land as a comedian, gives a truly dramatic performance. Yes, William Goetz and John Logan have themselves a highly artistic film.

For easy, gracious introductions there are just six things you need to know and remember!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Social Assets

Everyone should master the simple art of acquainting one person with another.

1. Do you always introduce the younger to the older person and a man to the woman. You should. The younger is always presented to the elder, except in the introduction of man to woman.

Looking at the person to whom the introduction is being made, say simply, "May I present Mr. Fullmore?" Then look to the person being introduced and say, "Mrs. Ridley." Or less formally, "It is perfectly gracious to say only, 'This is Mr. Fullmore... Mrs. Ridley.'"

In the case of two of the same sex, you merely observe their relative ages by saying: May I introduce Dr. Younger? ... Mr. Older."

2. In introducing a relative how does one proceed? A child is presented to adults: "This is my daughter, Jane ... Mr. Thompson." If an adult, the form is "This is Mr. Miller ... my sister, Miss Carr."

3. What about couples? Age is your keynote. "Mr. and Mrs. Younger ... Mr. and Mrs. Older."

4. In groups, if you are introducing a man, first give his name and then go round the group clearly speaking each name in turn: "Mr. Miller ... Mrs. Ridley, Mr. Ridley, Mrs. Gray, etc." If a woman, reverse the order and give her name at the end.

5. In introductions, a woman always must be the first to offer her hand when a man is presented or when she is the elder of the two, but while this is a gracious and friendly gesture, it is not imperative.

6. A simple "How do you do" is correct and sufficient in acknowledgement of any introduction.

Stock Market Declines Sharply In Slow Session

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP) — The stock market dropped sharply today in a slow session. Losses among the blue-chip stocks ranged from fractions to more than 2 points a share. Aircrafts and a few specialties were higher.

The small turnover of 1,650,000 shares robbed the session of some significance. This compared with Friday's volume of 1,570,000 shares, which was the lightest day in five months.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closed off 4.46 at 492.32. This average drifted a shade below that point at mid-day, reaching around the level from which last Wednesday's technical rebound began.

Metals, oils, steels and chemicals were among the bigger losers. Ralls and motors were down, along with the rest of the market.

Servel was the day's most active stock, off 3/4 at 3 on 28,000 shares.

Others in the "most active" list in order included Bethlehem Steel, off 1 1/4 at 45 1/2 on 23,500 shares; General Motors, off 1/4 at 44 on 21,500 shares; General Dynamics, off 1/4 at 56 1/2 on 21,200 shares; and Sunshine Mining, up 1/4 at 13 on 19,300 shares.

Union Chemical & Materials was the sixth most active stock, rising 2 points to 26 1/2 on 16,000 shares.

A New Approach To Mental Ills

A novel approach to the rehabilitation of mental patients is being conducted by a New Jersey state hospital, and apparently with excellent results.

In emphasizing the importance of community acceptance of a cured patient and the equally important need for the patient to become a participant in community affairs once again, the Ancora, N. J., State Hospital has begun a program of public mental health talks—with the ex-patients as speakers.

To allow the patient to mingle with society, talk to people on a subject with which he is certainly familiar, and submit himself to a cross-examination by the audience on the problems of mental illness, is the best type of rehabilitation, according to Dr. Harry H. Brunt, director of the Ancora hospital.

Not only does the former patient regain confidence in himself as a normal member of society, but audiences with which he associates realize the foolishness of the diminished, but ever-present, suspicions and fears directed against a released mental patient.

This is not the only innovation in the treatment of mental illness to be incorporated into the Ancora program by the energetic Dr. Brunt. The hospital is located on a 650-acre tract of pineland, completely devoid of fences, walls or barred windows. Most of the time the patients are permitted to wander over the grounds with little or no restriction, and to date not one patient has wandered away from the hospital boundaries.

Mental hospitals of this type are in great contrast to the dungeons of not long ago. Results produced at Ancora and other hospitals like it are worth many times the additional cost and effort.

Gluck Clucks

The unfortunate Gluck appointment does not lead to the conclusion that all diplomatic assignments should go to career men. Many ambassadors and ministers taken out of business and the universities have represented the United States admirably. Walter Hines Page, for instance, made one of the most distinguished records as ambassador to the Court of St. James's. He was a book publisher. Clare Boothe Luce surprised even her friends and admirers by her rare ability while ambassador to Italy. Paul S. Reinsch and Jacob Gould Schurman, both out of the universities, did remarkably well in China. One could go on and on detailing excellent representation by businessmen, bankers, lawyers and professors, many of whom made astonishingly notable careers in the diplomatic service. Others, of course, were duds.

The Gluck appointment created a furor because there was no reason for appointing him. He does not possess the background, the manner, or the personality for this particular task, although that is no reflection on the man. I am sure that the thousands who are not able to direct symphony orchestras would not regard themselves as lesser human beings; on the other hand, if they tried to direct, let us say, Beethoven's Ninth because they had successfully earned enough money to make an excessive contribution, perhaps in violation of the Hatch Act, to a political party, they would produce catcalls and insults and possibly a strike on the part of the musicians. It is the old story of shoemaker stick to your last.

Maxwell Gluck ought not to go to Ceylon. Being an associate of Benjamin Javits will do him no good in the east of Asia. The new Asiatic countries are very proud of their achievements. Those who head their governments are educated men, often men trained in British universities who speak European languages in cultured tones and whose familiarity with world affairs represents years of study. A high school education in Farrell, Pennsylvania, is not sufficient educational or cultural background for such an assignment.

The United States cannot afford to be represented in the east of Asia by a man who cannot possibly have the status essential for the task. Some of the career diplomats now in those countries are not of the best, but that is an internal problem in the State Department which John Foster Dulles said that he would solve before he became Secretary of State, but he apparently has been too busy for it.

The United States can afford to have a man in Ceylon who can meet an Oxford scholar on his own terms; who can discuss Marxism philosophically; who understands the difference between Brahmanism, Buddhism and Islam and does not insult his listeners by telling them that all is well in the world because the New York stock market is holding its own. Undoubtedly, Maxwell Gluck knows his business, but that business is not representation of the United States in the east of Asia.

I will cite Chester Bowles as an example of what can happen. Bowles started life as a huckster and made his fortune in partnership with William Benton. But Bowles came of the distinguished Bowles family of Springfield, Massachusetts, newspaper publishers. He studied at Yale. He had a long career as a public official during World War II and after. He served a term as Governor of Connecticut and then was appointed ambassador to India and Nepal, where he served with unusual distinction. He became a close friend of Nehru and undoubtedly played some role in holding Nehru in neutrality at a time when personal predilection and the pressure of events in China could have driven Nehru into the arms of Mao Tze-tung, if not Stalin.

Gluck's statement that he could not "pronounce" the word, Nehru, represents sheer ignorance. Nehru is as well known to literate human beings as Roosevelt, Stalin, Churchill or even Hoffa. While it is possible for a man to sell goods and not know the word, Nehru, it is impossible for him to represent his country in the east of Asia.

The fact that Gluck came well recommended by Jacob Javits, Benjamin Javits, and, as some say, Sherman Adams, is no warrant for this particular type of appointment. He should quit. He should resign. He should do whatever is necessary to serve his country patriotically by removing himself from the temptation of embarrassing Uncle Sam in Asia.

"We Must Have Economy"

Efforts To Undercut Eisenhower's Popularity

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Why is the obvious so often overlooked? This question might well be asked as one reads the many thousands of words being spoken and written about President Eisenhower's problems in dealing with Congress.

The obvious — that Congress is controlled by the Democratic Party, while a Republican Administration occupies the White House — is hardly ever stressed as the basic cause of the differences between the Executive and Legislative branches of the government nowadays.

But the ill effects of divided government cannot be suppressed.

It is, for instance, the objective and goal of the Democrats to win the next elections — both Congressional and Presidential. Plainly, Dwight Eisenhower gives prestige to the Republican Party. So the strategy of the Democrats is to see to it that Ike is discredited, ridiculed and sniped at, in order that his hold on the people may be broken down. Speeches are prepared for Democratic members of Congress to issue, and a whole barrage of publicity comes from the Democratic headquarters each week aimed at the President personally.

The drive was begun months ago to give exaggerated emphasis to Ike's illnesses. When this didn't impress the public, the next step was to hammer away at his absences from the White House or his playing golf or taking vacations. The statistics, of course, show that other Presidents — notably FDR — averaged more days per year away from the White House than Ike.

has. But the people are presumed to have forgotten this — if, indeed, it ever was stressed by the partisans of other days.

Next in importance in Democratic strategy is to spread the impression that Ike doesn't work on the job — that the man who took an oath to execute faithfully the duties of his office, the man who commanded one of the biggest armies in the world in the biggest war of all history, is so lacking in conscientiousness that he would play "while Rome burns."

The public reads about official visitors and ceremonies and golf playing, but little is available to the press on what any President does from morning to night — the telephone calls, the cablegrams, the secret messages, as well as the many memoranda on complex problems that come to him from numerous executive departments and agencies for decision in the unspectacular phases of everyday government.

Much of this detail at present is channeled through President Eisenhower's staff, but even four or five knotty problems a day are enough to make anybody want to get some relief from tension and make a break for the golf course.

What a cruel form of propaganda it is to deny the man in the White House an easing of his physical burdens by attempting to picture him before the public as lacking in fidelity to his job!

Some of the attack is cautiously and unctuously applied. The President, it is argued, is an honest man but he is "incredibly

Navy Secretary Arouses Anger Of Californians Over Hospital

By Drew Pearson

Richard Lankford (D., Md.), and William Bray (R., Ill.).

Angry Citizens

Next day Secretary Gates flew to San Diego, held a press conference at the Admiral Kidd Club, then virtually ignored a delegation of Californians who had driven about 100 miles to urge him not to close the Corona Naval Hospital. It had been agreed in advance that Gates would give them 30 minutes. Instead he shook hands, posed for a photo, then, without saying a word, boarded the admiral's barge to cross the bay.

"How such a rude, arrogant individual could be appointed Secretary of the Navy is one of the biggest mysteries of national party politics," exploded Mayor Francis B. Stearns of Corona, a Republican.

"They'll have trouble ever regaining their leadership in our traditionally-Republican county," continued the mayor. "Dozens of people traveled from Riverside, San Bernardino, and Imperial counties to talk to this man and he condescends to meet us, then brusquely brushes us off midst a swarm of rear admirals. He didn't even say goodbye."

"Fortunately the people of this country have a way of remembering occasions like this when they go to the polls."

Budget Cutting Hurts

The incident illustrates what the administration is up against, not merely in southern California but all over the nation, as a result of its present economy drive.

Inside fact is that Congress didn't touch a penny of the appropriation for the Navy's Bureau of Medicine. Congressman Harry Sheppard, jokingly referred to by Secretary Gates as "the great economizer," refused to make any cuts.

"The Navy's medical problems are too intricate for us," he told colleagues. "We'll take the word of the navy doctors."

After getting all the money it asked for, however, the Navy's Bureau of Medicine now has orders to cut below the budget requested of Congress — hence the ordered closing of the Corona Hospital.

This has brought a storm of protest from local citizens, plus repeated protests from California congressmen. Back in California, congressmen have stated that the matter was taken up at the White House, which to the average person means with the President himself. They don't know that the President doesn't pay any attention to the hospitals in southern California.

What happened was that Congressman Gordon McDonough (R., Calif.) was appointed by other California congressmen to take up the matter and he telephoned to ex-Congressman Jack Anderson, a White House liaison officer. He did not go to the White House. He phoned Anderson.

Busy-bee Anderson, in turn, talked to the Navy. If he took the matter of a hospital up with Eisenhower he would be in danger of getting fired. Ike never handles these things.

Anderson managed to keep the hospital open a few more weeks. However, he has 101 other problems from all over the USA which arise from budget-cutting. The closing of the Corona Hospital, the canceling of guided missile order, in Los Angeles, the closing of naval blimp stations in North Carolina, all as a result of economy, are now swamping congressmen and lesser members of the White House staff.

Budget-cutting is a popular campaign slogan, but when put into actual practice it's like most surgery. It hurts.

Economizer Lausche

Tousle-haired Senator Frank Lausche, ex-Governor of Ohio, is rivaling Paul Douglas of Illinois in keeping an eagle eye on the taxpayer's money.

He is now casting that eye on Merry Go Round-2 — Pearson, a bill to indemnify owners of fishing vessels if their ships are seized in foreign waters. In 1954, a bill was passed indemnifying shipowners if they were fined for fishing in foreign waters, but this bill goes further.

It's aimed at benefiting Florida and Louisiana's shrimp vessels fishing off the coast of Mexico, also California tuna fishers operating off Peru, Ecuador, and Chile.

The bill would indemnify fishermen for all losses including their vessels if the vessels are seized in foreign waters.

"This," says Senator Lausche, "is like telling someone that if you rob the government, the government will indemnify you."

Holland is the most densely populated country in the world. It has 900 population per square mile. Also has the highest life expectancy in the world. And lowest death rate. There is only one doctor for every 1,000 persons in Holland. That is all that are needed. If there were more they couldn't make a living. The government concerned about a lack of space for the growing and long lived natives recently suggested birth control. The Hollanders would have none of that. They like children and plenty of them. In Holland people having only four children are considered practically childless.

Tuberculosis And The Modern Treatments

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Several good drugs are capable of eradicating tuberculosis. Streptomycin and isoniazid have been in use for a decade. So has PAS Para-amino-salicylic acid, which represents an excellent supporting drug to the others. Pyrazinamide, viomycin, and cycloserine are less potent but prove effective in many instances as a secondary measure.

Until two or three years ago, chemotherapy was used as a last resort. We relied upon nature, along with bedrest and lung collapse therapy, but when these procedures failed, anti-tuberculosis drugs were administered. Delay was occasioned by the fear that the tubercle bacillus would become resistant to streptomycin, isoniazid, and PAS.

Then the policy became more aggressive. Physicians decided to throw the medical kitchen sink at the patient early in the game. Combinations of two or more drugs are given in full dosage to kill the germs before a resistant strain has a chance to develop. Surgery or lung collapse is kept as the ace in the hole in case of medical failure. Should all these methods fail, the secondary drugs mentioned previously are used.

The surgical outlook is much brighter than it was a decade ago. In some instances, it is necessary to remove one lung. This is the most radical treatment of all and carries a mortality of 16.5 per cent. This rate is not too great, considering that extensive tuberculosis exists and the outcome is poor to begin with. Many patients do well with lobectomy, in which a single lobe is removed; here the mortality rate drops to 3.3 per cent. When the lesions are smaller and less lung tissue is involved the rate is only 1 per cent.

When a patient formerly was discharged from the sanatorium, he was told his disease was arrested. X-ray showed that the lesion was replaced with scar tissue and telltale evidence of tuberculosis remained. But when the arrested or healed lesion is removed surgically for practical purposes, the patient is cured.

This type of surgery is not recommended until medication has been stopped for several months and the disease has been quiescent for a time. Modern surgical treatment of tuberculosis is applicable to other diseases of the lung including tumors, emphysema and blood clot complications. Results are most encouraging.

Cresaptown Tops Ellerslie, 'Coney Beats Mt. Savage

Pony League Semi-Finals Are Tied Up

Ellerslie Beaten,
10-6; Lonaconing
Posts 9-8 Victory

Manager Dale Broadwater's Cresaptown tossers whipped Ellerslie's pennant winners, 10-6, and Manager Harry Bosley's Lonaconing club edged Mt. Savage, 9-8, to square up the semi-final playoff series in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League at one-all in games played yesterday at Cresaptown and Lonaconing.

Cresaptown scored all its runs in the first two innings to even accounts with Ellerslie which copied the opener last Friday by the score of 12-3.

Four of Cresaptown's runs were scored in the first frame on two hit batsmen, a walk and error coupled with two hits. Three passes and one hit grouped with four fielding miscues produced six more tallies in the second inning.

Tommy Cecil went the route for Cresaptown while Jim Cook, who was relieved by Wisler in the second, was charged with the loss.

Royce Waltman had a double and three singles for a perfect day at the plate for Ellerslie. Jim Cook of Ellerslie and Gary Clingerman and Bill Lewis of Cresaptown garnered two hits each. One of Lewis' blows was a two-bagger.

Late Rally Decides

After Mt. Savage scored four runs in the top of the 7th to take an 8-6 lead, Lonaconing chased three runs over the platter before a batsman was retired in the bottom of the same frame to pull the game out of the fire.

Bob Brown opened Lonaconing's winning rally with a double and took third on Roger Wilson's single. Bill Garlitz beat out a bunt, scoring Brown. A wild throw was committed in attempting to get Garlitz at third, and Wilson raced home with the tying run. Pitcher Jimmy Pollack then won his own game when he laid down a bunt to score Garlitz.

Bobby Green, who relieved "Buddy" Barb in the 6th inning, was the loser. Jimmy Pollack went the route for Lonaconing and struck out six.

Leroy Morris of Mt. Savage had four hits in four trips, including a double. Bill Garlitz and Pollack had three hits each for the winners.

Final Game Friday
The "rubber" game of the series are set for Friday at Ellerslie and Mt. Savage at 5:45 p. m. Scores:
Mt. Savage 12-3; Ellerslie 3-12
Lonaconing 9-8; Cresaptown 8-6
Barb, Green (6) and Emerick, O'Brien (6), Pollack and R. Wilson, L.P.—Green.
Ellerslie 12-3; Cresaptown 8-6

PHOTOGRAPHY plays an important part in the operations of a professional sports team and in the case of the Cleveland Browns it means the use of close to 50,000 8x10s per year. This figure includes the glossy photos as well as the printed ones. The most important use of the photos is for publicity purposes, handouts to newspapers, wire services, magazines, TV stations and to publicize team in opponents' home towns. However, top use of photos is in displays for taverns, restaurants, banks, etc.

During the recent opening of football practice for the Cleveland Browns a day and a half was set aside as picture day, for the newspaper photographers as well as the team cameraman. ## Queen's Visit Speeds Sale Of Oct. 19 Ducats

Maryland Office Reports Big Day

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 12.—The University of Maryland's athletic ticket office was busy all day selling ducats for the game against North Carolina on Oct. 19, when Queen Elizabeth of Britain will be in the stands.

Joe Blair, director of public relations in the athletic office, said a long line of people was waiting in the hallway when the ticket window opened at 9 a. m. They continued to queue up all day long he said, and telephones at the university rang with inquiries about tickets available.

It was announced in Washington last Friday that the Queen and her husband Prince Philip would attend the Maryland-North Carolina game while visiting in the United States this fall. Today was the first time since then the ticket office was open.

Eddie Bean, ticket manager, said he hadn't counted up today's sale but said it was the heaviest since Maryland played in the Orange Bowl.

Byrd Stadium seats 35,000 but university officials are planning to install temporary bleachers when Elizabeth and Philip attend. This will boost capacity to 46,000.

Blair said that about 20,000 tickets were available at the beginning of today's sale and there are plenty left.

Milwaukee's Hurlers Are Good Routers

White Sox Pitchers Head Junior Loop

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—One of the major reasons the Milwaukee Braves have grabbed a 5½ game lead in the National League pennant race is the ability of their pitchers to go the distance consistently.

The Braves' mound staff leads the senior circuit in complete games, figures compiled by the Associated Press disclosed today. Topped by Warren Spahn and Bob Buhl, it has turned in 43 routine going performances.

Spahn and Bob Buhl each have 11 complete games. Lou Burdette has nine, Gene Conley six, Juan Pizarro three and Bob Trowbridge one. Ray Crone had a pair before he was traded to the New York Giants.

The Chicago White Sox, led by their big three of Billy Pierce, Jim Wilson and Dick Donovan, head the American League, also with 43 complete games. Pierce has gone all the way 13 times, Wilson 11 times and Donovan 10.

The Philadelphia Phillies are runners-up to the Braves in the National League. The Phils have 41 with Jack Sanford their top man with 12. Robin Roberts has 11 and Curt Simmons eight.

Pierce, Tom Brewer of the Boston Red Sox and Ruben Gomez of the Giants share the individual lead with 13 distance jobs.

Zulueta Takes St. Nick Fight

Frank Ippolito Loses Decision

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Cuban lightweight contender Orlando Zulueta, relied on his stabbing left jab tonight to score a close but unanimous 10-round decision over scappy Frankie Ippolito, a New York school teacher, at St. Nicholas Arena.

Zulueta weighed 137, Ippolito 140.

Making his first start since he was stopped in the 15th round of a title bout with lightweight champion Joey Brown on June 19, the veteran Cuban was forced to the limit by the 23-year-old New Yorker.

The three officials voted for Zulueta this way: Referee Al Berl, 5-4-1, Judge Bert Grant 7-3, and Judge Tony Castellano, 6-4. The A.P. card had Ippolito in front, 5-4-1.

Boxing writers were split 3-3 on the verdict. The 29-year-old Cuban, a 2-1 favorite, drew blood from his shorter rival's nose from the fifth round on with his fast jab.

But Ippolito carried the fight most of the way to his high ranking opponent, Zulueta, a veteran of 102 pro fights, is ranked as the third contender by Ring Magazine and fifth by the National Boxing Association.

Moving in on his taller and longer armed opponent, the unranked Ippolito scored often with right hand leads to the jaw and right-left combinations to the head.

There were no knockdowns and nothing close to one. Ippolito appeared to have landed the harder blows but it was Zulueta's stylish jabs that caught the eyes of the officials.

Mantle Chases Williams, Both Chase .400 Average

Mickey Trails Ted By Eight; Red Sox, Yanks Meet Tonight

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Mickey Mantle is chasing Ted Williams and both are chasing the .400 mark.

That, in brief, sums up the American League batting race with only seven weeks remaining in the 1957 season. But there is more to it than that.

For one thing, Mantle has gained considerable ground while Williams has shown signs of slackening off. In last week's games, Mantle hit at a .520 pace. The New York Yankees' switch-hitter collected 13 hits in 25 times at bat and boosted his average 11 points to .379.

Williams, meanwhile, dropped two points to .387. The 36-year-old Boston outfielder had eight safeties in 22 tries.

Their close battle will be a most interesting feature of the three-game series between the Yanks and Red Sox opening in Boston tomorrow night. Williams is batting .343 against New York and Mantle has a .310 record against the Red Sox.

Mantle walloped two home runs in last week's action while Williams and the other contender, limit by the 23-year-old New Yorker.

The three officials voted for Zulueta this way: Referee Al Berl, 5-4-1, Judge Bert Grant 7-3, and Judge Tony Castellano, 6-4. The A.P. card had Ippolito in front, 5-4-1.

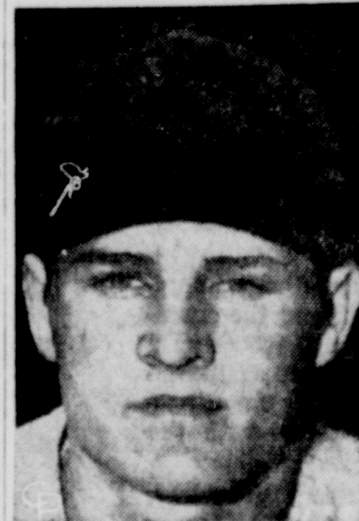

Boxing writers were split 3-3 on the verdict. The 29-year-old Cuban, a 2-1 favorite, drew blood from his shorter rival's nose from the fifth round on with his fast jab.

There were no knockdowns and nothing close to one. Ippolito appeared to have landed the harder blows but it was Zulueta's stylish jabs that caught the eyes of the officials.

Haney's Hoping

MILWAUKEE manager Fred Haney says he's depending a lot on hitting by Bob Hazle (above) to keep the Braves out front in the National league race. Hazle was recalled from Wichita. "I'll platoon him," said Haney, "with Andy Pafko and let Hazle hit against right-handers." (International)

Roy Sievers of Washington, failed to connect for the circuit. This gave Mantle the lead with 31 round trippers. Williams and Sievers each has 30.

Sievers Leads In RBIs

Sievers, however, continues to set the pace in runs batted in with 81. Mantle has 80 followed by Vic Wertz of Cleveland with 78. Sievers drove home two runs last week. Mantle had five RBIs and Wertz four.

In the National League, Hank Aaron of Milwaukee regained the batting lead after relinquishing it early last week to Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cards.

Aaron climbed one point to .338 while Musial tailed off a single point to .332. Willie Mays of the New York Giants and Dick Groat of Pittsburgh are deadlocked for third place at .330. Frank Robinson of Cincinnati is fifth with a .329 average.

Robinson Gains

Robinson gained the most ground among the leaders, picking up 11 points with 12 hits in 23 at bats. Mays increased his average eight points with a 12-for-28 performance.

Aaron maintained his edge in home runs with 32 although Brooklyn's Duke Snider slammed three last week, giving him 29 for the year. Aaron and Musial share the runs batted in lead with 87.

Parker Quits As Detroit Lions Coach

Announcement Is Made By Buddy At Football Banquet

DETROIT, Aug. 12.—Raymond J. (Buddy) Parker resigned tonight as coach of the professional football Detroit Lions in a sudden announcement that caught Lion officials by surprise.

Parker, starting his seventh season as head coach, made the startling announcement at the eighth annual "Meet the Lions" banquet at a downtown Detroit hotel. He said "when you get to a situation where you can't handle football players, it's time to get out—and that's what I'm doing tonight. I'm through with football in Detroit."

Club President Edwin J. Anderson and General Manager W. N. Kerby immediately went into a huddle with Parker in an effort to talk him out of his dramatic decision.

Anderson returned to the speaker's rostrum a moment later and told the more than 500 fans that Parker "is emotionally upset about several matters that happened today."

"I am sure that when Buddy has slept on this thing and has realized what he has said in public that he will reconsider."

Parker, who guided the Lions to three Western Conference championships—and who a year ago brought back a team that had finished last and wound up second to the Chicago Bears in the Western Division—refused to elaborate on his single statement.

He was summoned to the speaker's platform for his annual address about his team's prospects. That's when he announced his resignation, and sat down.

Asked by the master of ceremonies to return to the platform, Parker said "I just said what I thought and that's it."

There was complete confusion and the banquet broke up a few minutes later. Other Lion coaches were startled by the remark and said they had no idea that it was coming.

This is the second time in recent months that the veteran coach has talked of resigning.

The Lion's camp at nearby Cranbrook has been outwardly harmonious and the morale has seemed exceedingly high.

Red Sox Trounce Yankees, 12-2, In DD Title Series

Lefty Harold Hardinger yielded only two hits and whiffed nine in pitching Jim Wilson's Red Sox to a 12-2 triumph over the Yankees yesterday at Penn Avenue Field as the double elimination series to determine the championship of the Dapper Dan Little League got under way.

The Red Sox are champs of the Dan Division while the Yankees grabbed the title in the Dapper Division.

In Wednesday's game the Senators, top team in the Abrams Division, oppose the Yankees at Penn Avenue in the next round of the playoffs.

The only hits given up by Hardinger in yesterday's game were Billy Lueck's single and a homer by Clark. The win was the eighth against one loss for Hardinger this season.

Craig Sisk with a homer and two singles and Lee Miller with three one-base raps sparked the 14-hit attack of the Sox. Harold Hardinger batted a homer and single and Pat Wilson and Homer Hardinger had a pair of base knocks each for the victors.

Wright's Crossing eliminated Finzel from the battle for the fourth place playoff spot in the Twilight Baseball League by defeating the latter yesterday at Zihlman by the score of 5-1 behind the two-hit pitching performance of Ronnie Rice.

A four-run rally in the fourth inning broke a 1-1 tie and decided yesterday's contest in which Rice was returned the victor over Lefty Bill Haberlein.

Finzel's hits were credited to Jack Burner and Haberlein. Jimmy Gardner rapped a triple and single and Joe McGowan obtained a double and single for the winners.

Rice struck out nine and Haberlein whiffed eleven. Wright's Crossing will play Midland in the final game of the fourth place series and the winner advances to the league's Shaughnessy playoffs. Score:

Ellerslie will play the LaVale Maroons today at 6 p. m., at Parkside Field in the third game of the round robin series to determine the fourth place finisher in the Pen-Mar Little League.

County Series Opens Thursday

Burkey's and Corriganville's Old Exports will open their best-of-five games final playoff series in the County Softball League Thursday at 6 p. m. at Corriganville, it was announced last night by league officials.

Savitt Wins Over Seixas

Captures Eastern Grass Court Title

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 12 (INS)—Dick Savitt polished off Davis Cup veteran Vic Seixas, 6-4, 6-4, 1-6, 8-6, for the Eastern Grass-Court tennis title today after Mary Ann Mitchell grabbed the women's crown, 7-5, 6-2, over Jeanne Arth.

Savitt, semi-retired slammer from South Orange, N. J., out-blasted the 33-year-old Philadelphia star except for the third set. Savitt went through the motions after losing his service in the first game.

Seixas, peeved because Savitt showed up at 3:15 p. m. (EDT) after working in his New York oil office, claimed later that the tournament was run "at the convenience of Savitt."

Miss Mitchell, 11th ranking U. S. player from San Leandro, Calif., threw away a 3-0 lead in the first set, but bounced back to stop the surprising 22-year-old school teacher from St. Paul, Minn.

It was Miss Mitchell's first grass title.

In women's doubles, Barbara S. Davidson, Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Pat Todd, La Jolla, Calif., defeated Janet Hopps, Seattle, Wash., and Diana Wootton, Santa Monica, Calif., 6-1, 6-1.

Dedicate's Disqualification Causes Suspension Of Arcaro

Eddie Is Set Down 10 Days By Stewards At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 12 (AP)—Jockey Eddie Arcaro today was suspended from racing for 10 days as a result of the disqualification of the horse, Dedicate, in last Saturday's $100,000 Atlantic City Handicap.

The suspension is effective tomorrow.

Stewards at the Atlantic City race course said the suspension resulted from "careless riding" on Arcaro's part in the race, won by Royal Beacon 2nd.

Dedicate, owned by Mrs. Jan Burke of New York and Miami, finished three lengths in front of Royal Beacon 2nd but the stewards said they detected interference at the far turn.

Dedicate set a track record at 1:54.8 over the mile and three sixteenths course but stewards said today they are still uncertain if the time would be certified.

Dedicate was in fourth place when stewards said he bumped Helfast on the inside and Helfast in turn bumped Wild Ride, forcing the latter to "take up very sharply."

Helfast, owned by Leon and William Santore, was awarded second place in the race and Third Brother, owned by C. T. Chenery, was given third.

It was the second time in three weeks that a mount ridden by Arcaro had been disqualified in a $100,000 race. On July 20 at Arlington Park in Chicago Arcaro finished first aboard Fred W. Hooper's Alhambra in the $150,075 Arlington Futurity.

However, Willie Hartack filed an objection that Alhambra's stablemate, Olymar, bumped his mount, Sir Ruler. The foul claim was al-

VFW Post To Send DD All-Star Team To Ellicott City

Henry Hart Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will finance the trip of an all-star aggregation selected from the 12 teams of the Cumberland Dapper Dan Little League, to Ellicott City, Md., for a game with the all-star team of the community on Sunday, August 18, it was announced last by Gene Mason, city recreation director.

Mason said that 35 boys have been invited to the try-outs today at 5:30 p. m., at Post Field. The boys have been mailed cards by the Rec Department. Fifteen or twenty will be chosen for the trip.

Harry Reiber is in charge of arrangements for the local V.F.W. post.

The V.F.W. team of the Rocking Chair League also will go to Ellicott City and will appear in a twin bill program with the Little Leaguers.

lowed and although Alhambra won by four lengths and was not involved, his number was taken down under the rules of racing and Leather Button, ridden by Jack Skelly, was moved into the winner's spot.

Saturday's inquiry was initiated by the stewards themselves and not by any individual jockey.

The old record for the track here, set by Turbine in 1946, was 1:57.6.

In Chicago, Arcaro said it was just a case of losing control of Dedicate momentarily, and that he had no quarrel with the Atlantic City stewards' decision.

Arcaro said he was worrying though about whether the suspension order specified calendar days or racing days.

If he is set down for 10 racing days, he explained, he'll be ruled out of the $150,000 Washington Park Futurity in which he has contracted to ride Fred Hooper's Alhambra.

South End Tops Kelly

Merchants Win, 6-1, In 4th Place Game

Paul Fisher hurled the South End Merchants into the Rec Softball League playoffs yesterday when he tossed a one-hitter and turned back Kelly-Springfield by the score of 6-1 in the battle for fourth place at East Side Field.

Yesterday's game was necessitated when the Merchants and Timemen wound up their regular season tied for 4th place with 10-8 records.

The lone bingle credited to Kelly-Springfield was a single by Jim Williams in the first inning. Fisher also turned in an excellent fielding performance, handling six assists.

Dave Wright and Duke Davis shared four of South End's eight blows. Wright and Charles Harris rapped two baggers. Shortstop Jim Leamon and Jim Ketterman, centerfielder, excelled in the field for the Merchants. Harry Widdow starred at third base for Kelly.

The playoff finals will get underway Thursday with Sports Shoppe facing Peskin's at East Side and South End Merchants meeting Post's at Post's Field in the openers of best-of-three games series.

St. Luke's Lutheran brought the regular league season to a close by defeating Gray's Tavern yesterday at Post Field by the score of 5-1.

Jim Armbruster collected two hits and Donnie Lease had a two-bagger for St. Luke's.

The bidding:
South      West      North      East
1 diamond      Pass      1 heart      Pass
1 no trump      Pass      3 no trump      Pass
Pass      Pass

Opening lead: Queen of clubs.

Today's hand offers an excellent lesson to the aspiring student of the game for it includes a safety play, a simple finesse combination, and an important principle in timing. The hand is simple in appearance, yet declarer must play carefully to land the vulnerable game.

The final contract of three no trump was reached in orthodox style. West opened the queen of clubs, and declarer had to decide whether to play safely for four diamond tricks or to try to bring in the entire suit.

Four tricks would be sufficient in conjunction with the two clubs, two spades, and a heart, but the difficulty with the plan is that declarer would not have enough time to do all his wadding if he were compelled to give up the lead twice, for at least three club tricks would then have been established against him. In other words, South must produce nine tricks while losing the lead only once.

If the spade finesse wins, he can afford to play safely for four diamond tricks, but if the spade finesse loses, declarer must try to bring in the diamond suit in its entirety, that is by playing first the ace and then finessing the jack. He therefore must try the spade finesse first. If it loses, he must go all out for the diamonds.

When the queen of spades held, declarer cautiously laid down the king of diamonds and then led a low one toward dummy. If West puts up an honor, the ace wins and the nine of diamonds drives out the remaining honor, establishing four tricks for declarer. If West plays low, the nine is played from dummy. If East wins, the suit must break, and four tricks are assured. If east shows out, the nine has held the trick, and declarer can drive out the remaining diamond stopper.

Citizens Urged To Take Part In Referendum

Up To 5,000
Vote Predicted

Political observers are predicting that from 4,000 to 5,000 citizens of Cumberland will go to the polls today to cast ballots in the tax limitation referendum.

This would mean that about one third of the 12,850 voters currently registered would vote for or against the proposal to increase the limitation on taxes for general purposes, now $1.25, to $1.50.

A vote in the 5,000 range would be about half the participation in recent general elections of the city but fairly well in line with the last special election held here. This occurred in 1949 when a proposal for a charter providing for the council-manager form of government was defeated 2,678 to 2,624 in a referendum which brought out 5,302 voters.

No Property Bar

Voters cast 10,293 ballots in 1952 to approve a Daylight Savings Time referendum, but the question appeared on the general city election ballot. It failed to get full coverage, as 11,123 out of 15,685 voters indicated a choice of candidates.

In the 1954 general election, when the present Mayor and Council was named, 9,666 of the 15,070 qualified voters went to the polls.

City officials said they have had a number of inquiries from persons who asked if they had to be taxpayers to vote.

They emphasized that one does not have to be a taxpayer and that the only requirement is that one be a registered voter of the City of Cumberland.

If you are in doubt as to where to vote, call the City Registration Office.

Urges Full Vote

Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday he "hopes every one feels it his duty to get out and vote no matter how he feels" in today's referendum on a proposal to increase the tax limitation.

The Mayor said: "If the vote is small, we still won't know how the people feel about the matter. So get out and vote so we will know."

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said he still does not believe the average voter going to the polls today fully understands the issue at hand.

"Each will have a small but important role to play in the future of Cumberland," he said.

Both the Mayor and Keegan are supporting the tax limitation proposal.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan pointed out that the law requires bars and taverns to be closed from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m., one hour after the polls close.

Will Be First

Mayor Eves yesterday said he has heard criticism that the public has not been properly informed on the issues.

He was busy yesterday afternoon, going through the City Hall clipping file, and reported he found about 30 articles which provided information on the issue.

He said that while no one article explains the whole subject, together they provide fair coverage.

Today's referendum will be the first held under constitutional home rule which was approved by voters of the state in 1954 and spelled out in legislation adopted by the General Assembly the following year.

Steering Unit Meets Aug. 26

The Maryland Legislative Council will host the governor of Virginia and the Virginia Advisory Legislative Council at its next meeting on Monday, August 26, at 10 a. m. in the Academy Room of the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore.

The meeting was arranged by subcommittees from both states' Legislative Councils to discuss matters of mutual concern between the two states.

In addition to Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia and his council group, Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, of Maryland is expected to attend the session.

Included on the agenda will be the issue of licenses for slot machines and the sale of alcoholic beverages off the Virginia shore of the Potomac River, several matters pertaining to fisheries, the sale of fireworks and the pollution of the Potomac River and its tributaries.

Dr. Carl N. Everstine, secretary of the Legislative Council of Maryland, announced the meeting.

Two More Teachers Get Allegany High Positions

MRS. KITTY ATKINSON

MRS. INEZ A. RIGGS

Two more teaching positions have been filed at Allegany High School according to Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of Allegany County public schools.

Mrs. Kitty Atkinson, of 120 Johnson Street, Westernport, has been appointed teacher of Latin at the local high school and will succeed Harvey J. Mason, who taught that subject at the school for the past four years.

Mrs. Atkinson, who is a graduate of St. Peter's High School in Westernport, was graduated from Chestnut Hill College, Philadelphia, and did graduate work at the University of Maryland.

She majored in English and minored in Latin. From 1938 to 1941 she taught Latin and business arithmetic at Beall High School and while teaching at that high school she organized a Latin Club and was active in coaching declamation and debates.

In the other appointment, Mrs. Inez Ansel Riggs, 72 A Street, Keyser, has been named teacher of commercial subjects and will succeed Miss Irene Lapp, who retired this past June. Miss Lapp had been a teacher at Allegany High School since 1924 and taught in public schools for 39 years including 37 years in the county. Miss Lapp also taught three years in private schools.

Mrs. Riggs, who graduated from Romney High School in 1944, received her AB degree in 1947 at Shepherd College where she majored in commercial education and minored in home economics education.

In 1951 she received her Master's Degree at West Virginia University. From 1947 to 1950 she taught commercial subjects at Ridgeley High School and the following two years taught similar subjects at Keyser High School. From 1955 to 1957 she taught commercial subjects at Shepherd College.

Man Succumbs From Gunshot Wound In Head

A 43-year-old Celanese worker died at Sacred Heart Hospital shortly before 10:30 o'clock last night after being admitted with a gunshot wound in the head.

Detective Thomas See and Officer John Powers of the City Police Department investigated and said August Leonard Wells, 462 Goethe Street, apparently was shot in the right temple with a foreign make 7.65 caliber automatic pistol.

Wells was found lying on the floor of his bedroom about 9:15 p. m. after his wife heard what she described as a "thud" and went upstairs to investigate. She told police she found the pistol on the floor beside Wells and picked it up, placing it on the bed.

A neighbor, Marshall Spencer, was called to the house and an ambulance was called. City police were then notified.

Det. See said Wells was still alive when he and Officer Powers arrived at the home. He said the bullet apparently entered the right temple of the victim and emerged from the left side of the head, striking a wall of the room. Mr. Wells was taken immediately to the hospital by ambulance.

The pistol, equivalent to a .32 caliber weapon, was cocked with an unfired shell in the chamber and three other cartridges in the magazine. The spent shell was lying on the floor.

Mrs. Wells told the officers that her husband had indicated about 9 o'clock that he was going to bed. Shortly afterward she heard the noise which caused her to investigate.

An uncle, Thomas Beal, was sitting on the front porch of the house at the time and told police he heard the shot.

Police said late last night that the hospital reported no powder burns from the gun around the wound in Wells' temple. Investigation in the case will be continued.

Swanton Area Man Accidentally Shot

A 20-year-old Swanton area man was accidentally wounded in the lower left leg yesterday about 5:30 p. m. when his .22 calibre pistol dropped on the floor of his home and discharged.

Fred Friend was treated at Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland for a flesh wound of his leg. Cpl. Samuel Conrad, of the State Police, said Mr. Friend planned to hunt for sang root and decided to take his pistol along.

As he went to strap the holster around his waist the pistol accidentally slipped from the holster and fell to the floor and discharged. Friend's wife was a witness to the accident.

Forecast Calls For Cool Weather

The weatherman calls for cooler and less humid weather today with the high temperature expected to be about 80 degrees.

The cooler and drier weather will offer some relief to the warm temperatures experienced here the past few days.

The high reading yesterday was 90 degrees and overnight lows the next few nights are expected to be in the low 50s.

Leave For Convention

This group of youngsters, who are members of the Luther League of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, was pictured before leaving for Lawrence, Kans. to attend the Luther League of American Convention. They left Cumberland Monday morning to attend the week-long convention which will be attended by

State Police Find Burned Bond Particles

Fragments of burned savings bonds have been found near the home of a man who is being held in Garrett County in the $37,510 burglary of a Friendsville hardware store, State Police said last night.

Cpl. Samuel Conrad said members of the detective bureau of the state police at Pikesville yesterday located the burned fragments where Oliver Rockett, 53, of Baltimore, said he had burned approximately $25,000 in savings bonds taken from the safe of the F. G. Fox and Sons Hardware Store.

Rockett told Cpl. Conrad Sunday that the bonds were torn in two and given to him. He said he put them in a sack and burned them in the backyard of his home in Baltimore.

Rockett and Ellwood Kissner, 26, formerly of Friendsville, are lodged in Garrett County Jail in Oakland charged with burglary and grand larceny in the July 29 theft.

A third man is still being sought by authorities who have issued a 17-state alarm for his arrest.

Cpl. Conrad said last night that additional information on the third suspect had been obtained and that police are "still on the prowl" looking for him.

Charred papers and the remnants of wooden drawers from the safe were located in Preston County, W. Va., where police were led by Kissner after his arrest. Unburned tax forms and parts of a brass lock were identified as being part of the safe loot.

Approximately $6,000, including about $4,400 in cash discovered under a rockpile near Friendsville, also has been recovered.

Answer Alarm

East Side Fire Company answered an alarm at the rear of 454 Walnut Street shortly before noon yesterday. They found a short in a light receptacle had caused a small blaze but the fire had been extinguished before their arrival.

Youth Prank Endangers Life Of Boy

The life of a 12-year-old North End boy was endangered yesterday morning by a youthful prank played on him by two companions.

The two lads, 12 and 14 years old, tied up the third boy and placed him in a galvanized pipe located on the State Roads Commission storage lot near the North End ball field. They then left him there and went home.

City police said last night that the boy was tied sufficiently tight that he had not been found approximately 30 minutes later by SRC workers the lad might have suffered serious injury.

Police talked to the two boys who played the prank on their companion, reprimanding them and warning them of the seriousness of the act. They said there would be no prosecution and the youngsters were turned over to their parents.

Another youthful prank which two weeks ago caused the death of a household pet of a local businessman also was cleared by police yesterday.

The businessman had reported that a pet dog had come home after being shot in the stomach and had died shortly afterward. The dog had been with its master in the Holland Street area when the man returned home for lunch without the pet. The animal later made its way home after it had been fatally wounded by a .22 caliber bullet.

City police yesterday questioned a 14-year-old boy who admitted shooting the dog when he saw it running with another dog in a field near Holland Street. He said he "just fired at the dog" with his .22 caliber rifle.

Police confiscated the weapon and said the boy was in the custody of his parents. Authorities did not know if the businessman will prosecute the youth.

Attending Convention

Robert E. Stallings, city, is attending a convention of the Equitable Life Assurance Society at Williamsburg, Va. The trip was won by Mt. Stallings on the basis of his sales for the first half of 1957.

Local Fair Interest Increases

Advance interest in the 40th annual Cumberland Fair, which opens a weeklong run August 19 at Fairgo, indicates that continued prosperity lies ahead for the general area.

Cumberland is the industrial center of the Tri-State area and has been recognized as a guidepost to the trends of the national economy.

It is considered significant that more and bigger exhibitors are coming greater distances to the Cumberland Fair this year. Side by side with exhibits of country crafts and livestock will be more elaborate displays of some of the nation's biggest businesses and industries.

Even the entertainment booked by Harry J. Barton, general manager of the fair, is more ambitious than ever before. Marvin Rainwater — "Mr. Bluebird" — will be one of the top stars.

Traditionally conservative, the Cumberland Fair Association, of which U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall is president, is making extensive improvements to the exhibit halls, barns and other installations at Fairgo in anticipation of this year's greater demands upon its facilities.

Playgrounds Plan Annual Parade Friday

15 Nations Will Be Represented

Downtown Cumberland will take on an international air Friday night as the Cumberland Recreation Department holds its Fourth Annual Playground Parade.

Designed around the Parade 15 Nations theme, the 15-section parade will march off from the State Armory at 7 p. m.

Each city playground will enter a convertible carrying its playground queen, a costumed marching unit and a decorated float.

Theme chosen by the playgrounds are:

Ireland, Centre Street; Spain, Columbia Street; Japan, East Side; Switzerland, Gephart; Mexico, Johnson Heights; Africa, Lamont; England, Mapleside; France, Mt. Royal; Puerto Rico, North End.

Holland, Penn Avenue; Hawaii, Pine Avenue; China, Ridgedale; America, Post; Scotland, Virginia Avenue, and Italy, West Side.

All costumes, floats and music planned by the playgrounds are in keeping with the theme chosen.

Children at all of the grounds have been working for weeks to prepare for the spectacle. Most grounds have prepared most of the components for floats and will assemble them when hay wagons and trucks are spotted on the grounds Friday morning.

Officials said the grounds have done an excellent job of preparing the floats while keeping within the $25 limit set for decorations.

The department has set 12 feet as the top height for floats, so they will pass safely under utility wires.

Third Quarter Idle Pay Fund Rate Unchanged

The ratio of the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Fund to wages taxable under the Unemployment Insurance Law maintained a level above 6.0 for the year which ended March 31.

As a result, according to Robert B. Kimble, executive director of the Department of Employment Security, Maryland employers will contribute to the fund for the third quarter of this year under the same basic rate-schedule as in the second quarter.

If the amount in the fund had dropped below the 6.0 level, Mr. Kimble said, the basic rate-schedule would have increased automatically, with most covered employers contributing three-tenths of one percent greater than in the second quarter.

Wages taxable under the law for the year ended March 31, the period used to compute the basic contribution schedule for the current quarter, totaled $1,871,978.350. The balance in the fund as of March 31 was $116,779,877. The ratio between the two was 6.23.

Mr. Kimble emphasized he was speaking of the basic schedule only, and not of the experience-rating system, which determines the actual rate at which individual employers contribute to the fund.

The basic schedule of contributions fluctuates with the ratio between the Unemployment Insurance Fund and the gross wages of covered workers. When the relationship between the two amounts reaches certain specified proportions, the basic rate-schedule is raised or lowered. This "escalator" provision is intended to keep the fund solvent while keeping contributions as "low as possible."

The experience-rating system is tied to the personnel-turnover experience of individual employers. Its purpose is to insure that employers pay contributions to the fund in approximate proportion to the extent their workers become unemployed and receive benefits from the fund. The maximum contribution rate under Maryland Law, is 2.7 percent.
